The preschool students at the Putnam Family Resource Center enjoyed the experience of taste testing some cranberries in different forms. They enjoyed cranberry juice and created their own snack of ladybugs on a log (craisins). Each child took home a special bag filled with cranberry bread, a book and coupons for fruit and vegetables. Each teacher shared The Cranberry Story with the class and the children learned where and how cranberries are grown and harvested. It was a great experience and the families loved their goody bags. The event was sponsored by Interfaith Human Services of Putnam as part of their nutrition education program, Nourishing Neighbors.
